Fiduciary Accountant

Fax: (646) 445-5063

Born in Manhasset, New York, Lisa B. Sherr has worked with Jim Reid on numerous client projects during much of her professional career. As the primary resource of Reid Scofield, she is an exceptionally talented and efficient fiduciary accountant for complex estates, trusts and private foundations. Having graduated summa cum laude from New York University's Stern School of Business (B.S., Accounting), where she was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, Lisa has taken classes towards both law and business degrees.

Lisa is highly respected for her professionalism, intelligence, thoughtfulness, attention to detail and problem-solving skills. Aside from working with the clients of the firm, she has been employed as a fiduciary accountant to handle large and complex accountings and related matters for many of the major New York banks and trust companies. She currently lives in Mineola, New York with her husband, Andrew, and two sons, Sam and Matt.
